EDMONTON BREWERY.

The Edmonton Brewing and Malting company have placed their product on the market. Connoisseurs affirm that the beer is of a very superior quality, fully as good, if not better, than the Calgary article. The management informs us that improvements will be made which will make Edmonton beer the best that Alberta can produce. The article is made from the best Bohemian hops and the purest of malt. Absolutely no chemicals enter into its composition which is a sufficient guarantee of its high grade. A look through the brewery is most interesting. The best of machinery has been installed and the workmen are all specialists in their own line. A new ammonia plant for the manufacture of ice will shortly be added. Mr. Fisher, formerly of British Columbia, is in charge of the brewery and Mr. Lines attends to the company's business.

The anniversary services of the Presbyterian church here have been postponed for one week and will be held on July 5th instead of June 28th as announced. Professor Scrimger, D. D. of Montreal college, will occupy the pulpit on that occasion. Communion services will, however, be held on the regular day, June 28th.

D. Alton and wife, of Calgary, spent a few days with friends here on their way from Star, where they had been to visit Mr. Alton, who is very ill at present.

Miss E. Doyle, of Edmonton, visited friends here this week.

J. Johnston and wife of Sundridge, Ont., are on a visit to relatives here.

Inspector Parrot paid our school a visit Friday forenoon, and gave the teacher and pupils a half holiday.

A good many from here took in the sports at the Fort on the 12th.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wallis are spending a few days with their daughter, Mrs. Calhoun, of Edmonton.

Miss J. Corcoran and Mr. N. M. E. Chen were united in wedlock on Wednesday last.

Mr. Roy Houston met with a very painful accident on Saturday evening. While leading a colt the animal wheeled and kicked Mr. Houston in the face. Dr. Donald was summoned and attended to the wound. We hope to see Mr. Houston around again soon.

Our baseball team played a friendly game with the Josephsburg team on Saturday evening, resulting in a victory for our boys.

EDMONTON

Mr. Will Maxwell's new house is nearing completion.

Crops are doing splendidly, everybody looks and feels contented that the wheat season is over.

Rev. Mr. Spaulding preached here Sunday to a large congregation. We all appreciated his sermon. Rev. Mr. Thacker, in a neat speech, presented the missionary books given for collection for missions, to Misses Evi and Maize Knight.

What's the matter with our football team? We hear nothing of them this year.

Our new settlers are all quite at home and are enjoying our wonderful country.

Quite a heavy traffic is on our road, bound for the Edmonton settlement. From what we see of them there must be a superior lot of settlers in that district.

PERSONAL

John Cameron took a business trip to Wetaskiwin yesterday.

Dr. A. E. Brailwaite returned to Edmonton from Winnipeg on Monday evening.

P. Round, of Raven Creek, who cut his foot badly with an axe, is at Innisfail for treatment. His Edmonton friends will be glad to hear that the wound is healing nicely and that he expects to be up and about in the course of three weeks or a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Chapman returned to Edmonton from Calgary last night, where they had been in attendance on Mr. Harry Chapman, who had both his legs cut off by a car in the Calgary yards. Mr. Chapman is improving rapidly.

NAMAO

Last Wednesday evening a most enthusiastic Epworth league temperance meeting was held in the Bethel church. Vice-president Thos. Wilson, of the temperance society, occupied the chair. The addresses were on the Richelieu and were very interesting. At the conclusion of the meeting it was decided to institute a pledge-signing campaign at every available point in the circuit.

The Epworth league, having the church shed well under way, are now arranging to fence the church at an early date.

A strawberry festival will be given on the grounds near the parsonage on June 24th, from five to eleven. Games, refreshments and amusements will be the order of the evening.

Last Sunday Bethel choir gave one of their interesting song and praise services. The church was well filled and all enjoyed the services. Rev. G. W. Spaulding delivered a forcible and practical address.

Rev. Mr. Ross, the new Presbyterian pastor, has taken charge of his work. One and all wish him every success. Rev. Mr. Ross has now charge of his own field, Horse Hill mission.

The roads are improving finely, the chief difficulty being a few bridges, one near Mr. Charles Carson's is practically unsafe and a disgrace to the community. We hoped it will soon be put into proper shape. The Belmont road is fair except getting around Johnson's Lake. A long-suffering public wonders when the ditcher will arrive here. It is still on strike on Narrows avenue. One of our energetic farmers tendered for the draining of the lake at a very reasonable figure, but was notified that the government did not intend to touch it this year. We suppose they are waiting for the dry season.

June 9th.

THE BRITISH COLONY

Saskatchewan Herald.

Affairs in the new British colony are now moving forward in a very satisfactory way. A marked change has come over the whole of the twenty townships which now constitute "The Colony." Where a few days ago one could drive for miles without seeing a sign of man only to find a large body of very undisciplined people camped at headquarters, now but few are to be seen round the stores, tents, wagons, and breakings showing all over the plains.

The Rev. G. E. Lloyd and his committee have taken over the stores, which are now to be run on the co-operative principle, and already the scheme has taken hold. Branch stores will be planted 6, 12, 18, and 24 miles from headquarters camp as soon as possible to supply the whole district.

A post office has been established in the store tent and mail is being received ten days at a time. The reading matter on "farming" is sufficient to upset the stability of any well regulated post master.

It is roughly estimated that about 600 people have already located and letters are coming to Mr. Lloyd in large numbers asking that further location for homesteads may be held for those who are working round the country.

It is generally understood that the railway grading will begin very shortly now and the definite promise of a railway station at every six miles towards the east is giving general satisfaction.

The Chaplain is providing services on Sunday not only at the headquarters camp but also at the other points along the line of survey where the stations are expected.

Altogether the outlook is very promising and the whole colony is settling right down to business.

HAIL INSURANCE

It is perhaps unnecessary to draw to the attention of the farmers of the Edmonton district the need of insuring their crops against possible damage by hail. The hail insurance is under the control of the government and is, of course, absolutely reliable. A number of newcomers use all their limited capital in getting their first seed in the ground. If hail should unfortunately come and destroy their crops, unless they have had them insured, not only the seed and the whole season's work is gone, but also his next year's seed. On the other hand if he has "taken hail" insurance he is reimbursed by a sum sufficient to pay him wages for his season's work and also to purchase his seed for the next year. This enables him to get another start. Do not misunderstand us. We do not infer that the farmers of the Edmonton district need live in constant dread of hail. This is far from the true state of affairs. Not a particle of hail may fall, but still we have had hail here, and in certain sections crops have been destroyed. The farmers of the Edmonton district should insure against a possible, not a probable loss. Hail insurance costs little and it means much to a farmer, should his crops be destroyed. The charges are made as low as possible and on a working basis. They are fifteen cents per acre, with a fee of fifty cents for each application and for these rates the government will pay to the amount of four dollars an acre for each acre insured should the crop be destroyed. The measure is good and every farmer should place himself under its protection. Postmasters, village overseers, road overseers, and justices of the peace are authorized to accept applications and receive fees for insurance.

As To Iron Duties

The following is the Hansard report of the remarks of Mr. Oliver on the resolution of Mr. Borden to increase the duties on iron made on June 9th.
Mr. Frank Oliver, Alberta. In following this debate it has become difficult for me to understand whether the motion was intended to deal with a general principle or to a plea to a specific case; whether it is intended for the purpose of bringing about a change in conditions connected with the Dominion Iron and Steel Company or to deal with the iron industry as affecting the Dominion as a whole. I would like to deal with the question from the standpoint of its effect on the Dominion as a whole. Canada, situated as it is and constituted as it is, needs iron as England needs bread. Cheap iron is as necessary to the development of this country, as cheap bread is to the support of the industries of England. I believe in protection, but I do not understand the idea which seems to prevail with some of our friends that a mere increase of the duty is protection, and that such an increase is a cure for every evil that can possibly effect the nation. We have had, in times past, a policy of protection to the iron industry. It was not a part of the original national policy. It was an addition which proved the unreasonableness of the high tariff policy and actually broke its back. It was the high protective duties in favor of the production of iron which caused our other manufacturing industries throughout Canada to languish during the latter years of the so-called national policy.
There is no part of the present tariff policy of the government which has been so effective in improving the condition of our manufacturing industries and the general conditions of this country as the reduction in iron duties which was part of the tariff of 1897. The iron duties were reduced thereby. But it would seem as if our friends wished to create the impression that the iron duties were abolished at that time. I find on looking at the Tariff Act of 1897 that there are duties attached to the importation of iron and steel which seem to me to give a very substantial measure of protection, quite as much as any industry is entitled to under a revenue tariff. I find, on looking at this list, that pig iron has a protective duty of $2.50 a ton; that rolled iron or steel has a duty of $7 a ton; bar iron and steel $7 a ton; rolled iron and steel in sheets or plates, $7 a ton; iron and steel rails, 30 per cent; fish plates, $8 a ton; cast iron pipes, $8 a ton, and so on through the list. Does any person suppose that the manufacturing and agricultural industries of this country can afford a higher rate of protection to the iron industry than is thus accorded? For my part I do not believe it can.

Under any circumstances and according to the knowledge which has come within my range, I am prepared to vote against any increase on the iron duty beyond a mere readjustment thereof. I believe that in doing so I am acting in the best interest of the country as a whole. I find that not only is the iron industry protected to the extent I have mentioned, but that it is also benefited to the extent of $3 a ton on iron and steel ingots, puddled bars and pig iron. Now, I say an industry that is protected to this extent, and is further bountied to such an extent, has certainly no right to come to this parliament and make a plea that it does not now enjoy a very considerable measure of protection and advantage at the hands of the country at large.

Now, a word in regard to this bonus policy and the difference between a bonus and a tariff. It has been said that the bonus is a policy of mere expediency of experiment; and why not? Why should the country be committed without experiment to a policy the result of which no man can foresee. Or if he can foresee, it must be in the light of experience, and that would show that a policy of high tariff in favor of the production of iron would mean disaster to the country. I think it is right and proper that if you desire to encourage iron production in this country—and who does not?—the encouragement should be given by way of a bonus rather than by way of a tariff. Let me point out the difference between the cost to the country in the two cases. Supposing we produce 100,000 tons of iron in a year; we pay a specific amount of $300,000. Supposing we put a protective duty of $3 a ton on iron and import a million tons. It costs the consumers of that iron three million dollars; whereas the bonus only cost $3 a ton on 100,000 tons, and the iron industry of the country had just the same advantage on every ton actually produced. The policy of bounties is only a policy of expediency or experiment. But as one who desires to see the iron industry encouraged, and does not wish to see the country itself or the industries therein wrecked for the sake of the iron industry, I have supported the policy of iron bounties, and am prepared to continue to do so to a moderate and reasonable extent.

In regard to the suggestion made by the hon. member for St. Mary's (Hon. Mr. Trate) that if the iron duties were raised tonight, tomorrow the millions which have been lost, as the hon. member for Lethbridge (Mr. Bourassa) said, in stock gambling, would be recovered. I ask this House if that is a proper reason to present to us. Does this parliament exist for the purpose of rigging the stock market? Surely we have other duties to perform, other interests to guard than the interests of those who have invested their money under such circumstances.
I believe, Mr. Speaker, that in the construction of railways necessary for the development of this country, in the expenditures on manufacturing industries, necessary to keep pace with our agricultural development, we require cheap iron more than we do anything else. If Canada can produce that iron, or if any legislation can be brought forward or any assistance given that will really induce the production of that iron by Canada as cheaply as it can otherwise be procured then I am in favor of such legislation. But legislation which shall cause iron to be dear throughout the country, which shall cause an increase of its price by one-third, or one-half, or possibly double, I say such a policy is not a policy of national protection. It is a policy of industrial and commercial suicide.

The post office, which has been closed for some time, was reopened last week.

Although spring was unusually backward, the grain and hay outlook seems very good. The weather is fine and the roads better than they have been for three years, except last fall. Dr. Sinclair's house is almost completed.

Some of our people went to Legan to attend the dedication of the St. James Anglican church on the 10th. As the bishop did not come it was postponed till some later date.

On June first, Mrs. Brigham, Mr. and Mrs. Willmeroth, entertained a company of young people. Dinner was spread at six o'clock, the table being beautifully decorated. Many nobles and royalty were represented. Mr. Thornloe as King Edward, was at the head of the table, Queen Alexandra to his right. The drift of the conversation was amusing. The party was pleased to be graced with Dr. Sinclair as President Roosevelt and his expansion. Miss Pearl Hallberg, who has been ill for the past three months but is quite strong again, as Mrs. Roosevelt. Vocal and instrumental music was the chief feature of the evening and some excellent solos were sung. Arrangements were made for a picnic on the third of July.

Simon Bros. have in a new stock of goods.

BEAVER LAKE EAST

The lake is more than two feet lower than at this time last year.

Although cattle came through the long winter in pretty fair condition and without losses, several have since died through getting bogged in sloughs.

The hour of service in the church here has been changed to 3.30 p.m. Sabbath school an hour later.

Joseph McCallum has sold the ferry to Henry Hunter. The rates now are 25 cents for teams and 15 cents for single rigs.

Crops look pretty well as a whole, but rain would help them a great deal.

The traffic to Vegreville and other points east is great. Business at the stores is very brisk.

Frank A. Muncey is the owner and editor of Muncey's magazine and also owns several other publications. What he doesn't know about editing etc., according to his idea, wouldn't fill a very large gunny sack. Some time since he stated that he didn't want "dialect driven or character studies with fancy finishes" what he wanted was "stories with snap and action in them." Not long since he published a story entitled "The Prebentorian," which contained a string of our North-west. This story was afterwards copied into the Montreal Family Herald, which occasionally indulges in such flings at us. The story in question has a certain amount of "snap and action," but I think a little "dialect driven" would be preferable to libeling a district wholesale.

The picnic of the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church here came off on the 10th, as advertised, and was a gratifying success. The weather was about perfect, the attendance good, the provisions etc., excellent and more than sufficient and all seemed to have an enjoyable time. Quite a number were present from Tobfeld, Vegreville and other lake points. The program was not long, but was very good. There were addresses by Rev. W. O. Rothney and Messrs. McQuinn, Thornloe and Woodside; songs by Messrs. Burnett and Fane; a recitation by Miss Whillans; a quartet by Messrs. Cookson, Rothney, Thornloe and Woodside; music on the dulcimer by Miss Watson, and several stirring selections on the bar-pipes by Mr. Watson. Then followed a game of baseball between the Tobfeld and Beaver Lake East boys. The game was well contested and victory fell to the Beaver Lakers by a score of 32 to 22. The picnic was got up to aid in purchasing an organ for the church. The net receipts were quite large, amounting to over $31. Those who worked so hard to ensure a successful affair deserve great credit, and a large share of this falls to Mr. Joseph McCallum, who had the grounds prepared at his own expense.

At a meeting of the members of the Vermilion valley and Beaver Lake Agricultural Society held at Vegreville on the 6th inst., Mr. F. W. Fane, of this place was elected first vice-president. Three others of our settlers were also honored, Mr. Henry Dey having been appointed one of the auditors and Messrs. Dan McCallum and A. R. Moody were elected directors.

British Immigration

Ottawa, June 11.—Mr. James A. Smart, deputy minister of the interior, completed a very exhaustive statement on the immigration work of the past year before the agriculture and colonization committee this morning. His evidence on the subject all through has been most interesting and goes to show that the department is carrying on most effective work in an economical manner as can be expected when the expenditure is spread over two great continents.

A description of the new London of Essex was given by Mr. Smart. These are situated fronting on Trafalgar square, in the most central part of the metropolis and admirably adapted to the purpose of exhibiting Canadian products as well as conducting the office work. There is also reading and writing room accommodation for Canadian visitors to the city. The fitting of the buildings are entirely Canadian and as Mr. Smart puts it "everyone knows where we are now."

The Canadian arch erected for the coronation, Mr. Smart considers, was one of the greatest features in inducing the great exodus to Canada this year. The sending over of some fifty-five successful Northwest farmers this spring to tell the people of their actual experiences has also been found very successful. The emigration from the British Isles by localities was given by Mr. Smart. In England, London and Middlesex, Essex, Kent and Surrey sent 37.1-2 per cent of the whole; York shire and Lancashire together sent about 50 per cent. From Ireland, Ulster sends the most. The percentages by provinces are, Ulster 61.1-2, Leinster 20.1-2, Munster 12, Connaught 6. Glasgow and its vicinity is the chief source of our immigration from Scotland, sending 25 per cent; little Orkney sends 2.1-2 per cent; Edinburgh, Fife shire and Renfrew, seven per cent each; Ayrshire six per cent and Aberdeen, eleven per cent.

Mr. Smart said that if there was any inducement to immigration in the way of assisted passage many more would leave the old country, but he fully agreed with the policy that this was not desirable. As it is we can get the best class of people.
